FROM KITCHENS OF GERMANY

Idea Here That May Be Something New to the Housewives of America.

Sagawana—Scald one cup milk, put into mixing bowl with one-eighth pound or one-fourth cup of butter, one-half cup sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. When milk has cooled add one large egg (beaten). Now sift two and one-half level cups of flour, one teaspoon of salt three times, dissolve one-half yeast cake in one tablespoon of cold water, add yeast to mixture, then gradually mix in sifted flour and stir well. Put into a warm place to raise over night, well covered. Beat down the first thing in the morning, let raise, beat down again, then put in baking pan, let raise again. Bake with indicator 350 degrees. This is a fine foundation for any raised cake. You can make apple cake, raisin cake, cinnamon cake, doughnuts (by adding a little more flour).

Streusel Cake.—Put mixture in shallow pan, just spread it on bottom of pan same as you would apple cake and always butter on top of cake just before you put in oven. Whatever you put on top of cake put it on just before putting in oven.

Streusel mixture for putting on top of cake:

This should be made after you put the cake in pan for the last raising, and when made put it in a cool place until ready to use.

Streusel Mixture—One-eighth of a pound of granulated sugar, one-eighth of a pound of flour, one-eighth of a pound of butter, one teaspoon cinnamon, one ounce of almonds cut up small. Stir sugar, flour and cinnamon together; add butter cut into dry ingredients with a knife so it will be crumbly, then add nuts. Mix up well.
(The butter should be left in the kitchen so it is not hard when ready to use.) When the cake is well risen spread thickly on cake and bake at once. This is very fine if made right.
Please try this and let me know what you think of it. Measure with measuring cup and spoons. I am very exact in measuring. You can make jelly doughnuts by cutting two forms as thin as cookies, wetting the edge of one, putting a little jelly in center and putting the other on top, pressing edges down firmly.

The Housekeeper

To test a cake to see if it is thoroughly baked, use a skewer.

French chalk will clean a slightly soiled white chip hat.

A teaspoonful of extract will flavor a quart of any mixture.

Potatoes should boil slowly to prevent the skins from curling off.

To kill burdock, cut off close to the ground and pour a little gasoline on the roots.

If shoe polish has become dry from standing too long, moisten it with a little turpentine.

Blotting paper saturated with turpentine may be placed in drawers to keep away moths.

Allow two teaspoonfuls of baking powder to each cup of flour when no eggs are used.

A table of weights and measures, typewritten and framed under glass, should hang in every kitchen.

Allow from four to six eggs to each quart of milk in making custard to be turned from the mold.

Lillian's Kidney Stew.

Carefully wash the kidneys and boil until tender, set aside to cool. When quite cool cut in tiny squares, removing all fat; place in stew pan with one tablespoon butter, a little salt, dash of pepper and large cup of milk. Simmer gently for half an hour, then thicken with a spoonful of flour wet with a little cold milk. Serve on a platter with small squares of dry toast.

Stuffed Spanish Onions.

Peel the onions and scoop out centers. Parboil five minutes and drain.
Make a stuffing of the chopped onion taken from the centers, bread crumbs, salt and pepper and butter. Fill the onions heaping full and sprinkle the tops with buttered crumbs. Cover and cook in a pan contain'g a little water, brown slightly before taking from the oven.

Baked Squash.

I always have baked squash and this is the way I do it. Just cut, or chop rather, squash in halves and put in oven. Do not peel it. When soft take a spoon and scoop the inside out, which you will find is very easy, then add piece of butter, pepper and salt, and your squash is ready for table at short notice.—Boston Globe.

Lima Bean Salad.

Drain the juice from a can of lima beans, pour a cup of boiling water over them and drain again. Chill, dress with French dressing, place on tender leaves of lettuce and sprinkle lightly with grated horseradish.

Baked Apples.

Select apples of uniform size, wash, core, arrange in baking dish and fill the cavities with sugar, butter and spices, or with plain sugar, as preferred. Bake and serve with whipped cream.

LOOKED LIKE AN EASY MARK

Things That Happened to Mr. Boggs Set Him to Wondering—Refused to Loan His Umbrella.

Harry Boggs, expert accountant for the public utility commission, is beginning to wonder if he really looks like the proverbial easy mark or whether what has happened to him recently is just a streak of luck.

The other evening while sitting in the lobby of the Oneida hotel a stranger accosted him and asked him to cash a check. "Why, I don't know you," said Boggs. "I don't know you, either," was the reply, "but I thought you might cash this check for me."

A night or two later while Boggs was waiting for a car at Market and Delaware streets another man, equally unknown, walked up to him and asked him to lend him his umbrella a few minutes. Rain was falling standily and Boggs was wearing a Panama hat, with which he is very well satisfied. "What'll I do while you are gone with my umbrella?" asked Boggs, more or less peevishly. "Well, I thought you would not mind waiting until I came back," replied Mr. Nerve. "Say," said Boggs, "I want to tell you that you've got a crust an inch thick, but you don't get my umbrella." Now Boggs is wondering if some one will try to borrow his toothbrush or ask the loan of his house and lot over in Terre Haute.— Indianapolis News.

THE LOGICIAN

Earlie—Father, what is a logical candidate?

His Dad—As a rule, my son, he is a man of exceptional intellectual brilliancy whose reasoning faculties are entirely applied to explaining before the election why he ought to win and after the election why he didn't.

Merely a Habit.

"My son has tried to elope three times during the last month, but I tell him he doesn't know his own mind."

"Such persistency would indicate that he did. Why don't you let him marry the girl?"

"Well, each time he has picked out a different girl."

Stay Was Brief.

"Is this Mrs. Smith? I called you up to ask if you could say anything good of Bridget Farley, who lived with you as cook?"

"Yes, I can say one thing. She left without breaking any dishes."

"That's encouraging. How long did she stay?"

"One hour."—Harper's Weekly.

No, You Never Do.

"Women are the inferior sex," declared Mr. Pomper, with an air of finality.

"Oh, I don't know about that," said Mrs. Pomper. "You never see two women waste a lot of valuable time arguing about the respective merits of their watches."

Much Havoc Wrought.

"It's true," said Mrs. Plodgett, "that I sometimes lose my temper, but the storm soon blows over."

"Yes, my dear," answered Mr. Plodgett, ruefully. "A cyclone soon blows over, but it often does an immense amount of damage."

Crowded Corridor Controversy.

"I'd have you understand, sir, that I am not a door-mat!"

"I beg your pardon. I stepped on your foot without thinking."

"By Christopher, sir, it's my opinion that you do everything else the same way!"

Must Be an Oversight.

"Here is a rather unusual story of Kentucky written by an eastern novelist."

"What's unusual about it?"

"There are 350 pages in the book without a single reference to the heroine's 'delicious southern drawl.'"

Trying and Buying.

"Your wife was down town today trying on gowns all the afternoon, my wife says."

"That doesn't bother me."

"You talk like a millionaire."

"I don't mind her trying; it is her buying that is trying to me."

Unmoved.

"Isn't it sad to think of poor King Manuel having to pawn his family jewels?"

"No, I couldn't scare up a tear for poor King Manuel if my life depend on it."

Quite So.

"The trouble with you, Biffers, is that you are too easily discouraged." "Pshaw! That's the kind of talk that usually emanates from people who have never been caught under a steam roller themselves."
